

Do you conduct patient assessments using virtual care?

There is a range of situations where remote and in-person clinicians collaborate virtually to conduct patient assessments. This 10-minute microlearning module provides guidance to enhance communication between clinicians that enables timely and equitable access to specialist advice and support.

In this module, watch a short video featuring experienced clinicians sharing their insights on conducting collaborative patient assessments with virtual support. Learn how to:

- identify roles and responsibilities of in-person or remote clinicians when conducting virtual patient assessments
- use clear and descriptive techniques during virtual patient assessments to inform accurate patient management and care.

No boundary health care.
Use virtual care to extend clinical expertise.
